TITANIC STRUGGLE FOR HINDENBURG LINE GOES ON WITHOUT CEASING

By Lowell Mellett

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

With The British Army In France, Sept. 23.—Regardless of the heavy rain the British and Germans continued local fighting between Cambrai and St. Quentin, last night and early today. South of Oppy the British last night advanced 600 yards on an 1100 yard front. At ten o'clock last night the British troops advanced north of Epehy, driving the enemy out of several trench elements breaking into the Hindenburg line.

By United Press

London, Sept. 23.—British troops progressed on a front of about 3-4 of a mile east of Gavrell, 5 1-2 miles northeast of Arras last night, Field Marshal Haig announced today.

The Germans temporarily penetrated the British line near Berthaucourt, 4 miles northwest of St. Quentin. Early in the evening they were driven out by counter attacks.

The British also advanced between Vendhuile and Villers-Guislain. "A number of strong points and some prisoners were taken. Last night English troops made progress in the direction of Tombois Farm, 2 miles directly west of Lecatte, after several hours of hard fighting," the statement said. "Further north they captured a group of strongly held trenches and strong points northwest of Vendhuile. A number of prisoners were taken during the night. Also about 100 prisoners were taken in the local attack south of Villers-Guislain."

Paris, Sept. 23.—The capture of Vendeul (on the western bank of the Oise, 9 miles south of St. Quentin) is reported by the French war office. North of the Ly-Fontaine, (2 miles northwest of Vendeul) the French troops penetrated south of Hinecourt (a mile north of Ly-Fontaine.)

MOVEMENT ON TO FORCE MEN OUT OF NON-ESSENTIAL INDUSTRIES

By United Press

Washington, Sept. 23.—A move designed to force men out of non-essential employment and muster women of the nation to take their places is on foot today by thousands of Local Boards reaching into every section of the country.

The Boards are acting under detailed instructions from the government working through the United States Employment Service. Each Board soon will publish lists of industries in its locality in which men should be replaced by women. Lists are being based on a survey of the industries in each board's district. Publication of the lists is expected to cause employers to comply and employ women as a result of the moral pressure thus exerted. Where moral pressure fails strong measures will be undertaken. This move is a result of the enlargement of the army program under which four million men will be sent to France by next June.

BRITISH CAPTURE NAZARETH IN A BRILLIANT FIGHT

Two entire Turkish armies have been practically wiped out in Palestine it was officially announced today. "The 7th and 8th Turkish army has virtually ceased to exist" the statement said.

Paris, Sept. 23.—Allied troops in Macedonia have taken 25 villages in the last 48 hours according to dispatches from the Salonika front today.

London, Sept. 22.—Nazareth is in British hands.

The ancient city of Galilee was delivered from the Turkish Turk on Friday when Irish, English and Australian horsemen dashed into it and passed it in one of the most far-flung and brilliant encircling operations of all military history.

Eighteen thousand Turks were trapped. One hundred guns were captured. What remains of the Turkish Nabulis army has been cut off from all avenue of escape with the exception of a narrow stretch along the Jordan East Beisan, which city is in British hands. Many thousands of Ottomans were mowed down as they fled in panic before General Allenby's cavalrymen. Many thousands more fell as they fled straight into the hands of the mounted columns closing in on them.

Occupation of Nazareth marks a British advance of 75 miles since the fall of Jerusalem. The operations culminating in the glorious victory which more than settles the British account for the Kut-el-Amara defeat, were carried out along a total of 150 miles. The main line of attack stretched from Beit-djan, eight miles east of the Mediterranean to Yafa, to the north of Nazareth.

El Afuleh, eight miles south of Nazareth and fifteen miles northwest of Beisan, also has been occupied.

"Traversing the field of Armageddon," says General Allenby's report of Friday, received here today, "we occupied Nazareth, the Beisan, collecting the disorganized masses of the enemy troops from the south."

"All of the enemy's avenue of escape except the Jordan's fords, have been closed."

And on the following day, Allenby, the modern Crusader, was enabled to telegraph:

"We hold Nazareth and the passes of the Jordan. Eighteen thousand prisoners, 120 guns captured."

BRITISH AIRMEN BOMB HOSTILE AIRDROMES

London Sept. 23.—Fifteen tons of bombs were dropped on enemy objectives by British aviators Saturday night according to official announcement today. "Saturday night Royal Aerial Force units attacked four hostile airdromes with bombs and machine guns. The Hagendinger and Rosbach, blast furnaces were attacked and hit. About 15 tons of bombs were dropped. All of our machines returned safely" the statement said.

The young man is 23 years of age.

WHAT DID YOU GUESS?

We have heard a great deal of speculation regarding the speed of the airplane which flew over Clearfield last Friday evening and which was carrying air men Miller and Wacker. For the information of all concerned we will say that according to Mr. Miller's statement at Lock Haven Friday evening he was only flying at the rate of 120 miles per hour when he disappeared from our view behind the eastern horizon.

This is Bond-Day.

REPUBLICAN CONGRESSIONAL CAMPAIGN TAKES SECOND PLACE UNTIL AFTER LIBERTY LOAN CAMPAIGN

By Gus J. Karger

Washington, D. C., Sept. 20. "I accepted the chairmanship of the National Republican Congressional committee because of the unanimity with which it was tendered, guaranteeing the elimination of all factional differences. Being thoroughly convinced that a Republican Congress is demanded in the interest of the country, I obeyed the call from a sense of patriotic duty."

This was the statement of Representative Simeon D. Fess, of Ohio, former President of Antioch College, whose participation in practical rather than theoretical politics began in 1910, when he became a member of the Ohio Constitutional convention, and whose experiences in the field then new to him have ripened since his entrance into Congress in 1912.

He attains a position of national leadership in the Republican party with a reputation in the House well established. Always a student and a thinker, the days of the classroom are far enough behind him to relieve him both of inclination toward or reputation for pedantry. Throughout his Congressional career he has demonstrated high ability to avoid impractical theorizing and to apply profound knowledge to the desiderata of a progressive age and nation.

Thus equipped, he assumes charge of the campaign, the purpose of which is to wipe out a Democratic plurality of four in the House and turn it into a Republican majority, and to rearrange the political balance in the Senate, where the Democrats now control by a vote of 52 to 44. Not an insignificant undertaking, but Chairman Fess believes that it will be done.

I talked with him in his room in the House Office building with reference to the character of the campaign that is to be waged, with regard to the issues that will be urged upon the attention of the electorate. Although but recently inducted into his high office, Mr. Fess already had held numerous conferences on the subject, had sought the advice of other leaders, and had mapped out the situation in the orderly manner which is habitual with him.

"My belief in Republican success in the coming elections," he said, "is based upon the conviction that the public holds in high esteem the attitude of Republicans who before the war showed their insistence for a policy of preparedness, and who since the war have given vigorous support to every measure of war, even though by so doing they added to the popular prestige of the opposition party, responsible for the affairs of government. The Republican attitude, from the beginning, has been an unselfish one, stripped of all desire for partisan advantage. I believe the American people appreciate that attitude and will voice that appreciation at the polls."

Chairman Fess went at once more deeply into his subject—the conduct of the coming campaign.

"No active campaigning can begin," he explained, "until the drive for the fourth Liberty Loan shall have come to an end on October 19. The Republican party is so vitally concerned in the success of that loan, that it can permit no other consideration to divert the attention of the public from it. The winning of the war is the first and foremost—aye, the only—consideration. The intense interest of the Republicans in the loan is clearly shown by the fact that Republicans of both House and Senate are doing their utmost to shape the business of Congress as to permit them to take individual part in the campaign for the sale of the securities. Their patriotic support of the loan precludes the possibility of entering them for campaign service before the success of the loan itself shall have been assured. Then, and not until then the vigorous campaign which is no being mapped out will be set in motion. Necessarily brief, yet this political campaign will be of vital importance to the nation. It will be conducted, along the lines with which the public is familiar through speakers, literature, newspaper discussion, local district and state organization. I have already conferred with the state chairmen and other conferences will follow, in which candidates for Congress and district chairmen will participate. Of the cooperation of the Republican National Committee I am assured by Chairman Hays, with whom I have discussed the situation fully."

"What issues will be emphasized in the campaign?" I asked the chairman. "More vigorous prosecution of the war will be the Republican demand," he returned. "Perhaps such real issues as involve an affirmative by one party and a negative by the other may be lacking. That is due to the fact that the Republican party for the duration of the war has abandoned the ordinary function of a minority party, which is to hold up and oppose legislation by the majority. We have not constituted a minority party in that sense, in fact, we may not properly be designated the minority party in the House at all. In the major measures designed to speed the war and develop the war power of the nation, the administration has been obliged to turn from its own unwilling leaders and look to eager patriots on the Republican side to assume the responsibility which really belonged to the Democratic party, but which it would not shoulder."

"Republicans have done much to stimulate governmental war energy, and constructive Republican criticism, intelligence and inefficiency that would have scored heavily against us. Constantly the course of the administration has lagged behind Republican demand."

"Secretary of War Baker has reminded the country that the war department is seven or eight months ahead of its plans. But the answer is that these plans are years behind; the trouble, from the beginning, has been the lack of plans, the lack of conception."

"We must elect a Republican Congress because a Republican Congress will feel a greater sense of responsibility than merely to follow the wake of administration. It is because a Republican Congress will be free to criticize and correct evils, and force action just as the Republicans of Congress have been doing for seventeen months; because a Republican Congress will stimulate the war activities of the government and stand more firmly behind the real war aim of the President than a Democratic Congress would do. Every delay means the sacrifice of thousands of American lives, and Republicans, wherever they speed up the machinery, are saving these lives."

Do You Want To Go Back To Open Milk Containers

Of course not. Neither do we. That is why we take this method of talking to our customers. It is nearly impossible to buy milk bottles. We are short of them now and are told that we cannot expect to get any more for four months.

Less than two months ago we bought twelve gross of new bottles and find now that we have less bottles than we did before we bought these. Breakage by customers has helped bring about this shortage and we are informed that some customers are using these milk bottles for preserves and pickles. Others do not empty their bottles daily and this helps to create a bottle shortage. On a recent occasion we had to call in the wagons to get the bottles they collected that morning before we could deliver all of the milk for that day.

Our customers hold the key to the situation. We know you will help us by taking good care of the bottles and seeing that they are emptied daily.

Peaceful Man Can Fight.

It has rediscovered America. It has found that it was mistaken. It has been suddenly confronted with the fact that the peaceful man is the most dangerous man when he concludes to engage in a fight.

But this fight is not yet won. There are no half dozen courses open to the American people. They must win or they must lose, and if they lose, what was sought to be accomplished by insidious propaganda will be given to them by the mailed fist of the conqueror.

Holy war declares that all a man hath will be given for his life, but more than a century and a quarter of American life has disclosed that life is not life unless with it goes liberty.

We are therefore up against the real thing. We must win or we must be contented to be slaves, despots of our houses, our lands, our souls, our bonds, our mortgages and our money.

I am not a graduate of the Wharton School of Finance. I learned my financial system from the Indiana official who felt that he had been a faithful public servant when he made a report in his fiduciary capacity which simply showed that the money was all paid in and all paid out. But with blood in my veins, not a drop of which on either side of the house has landed on this soil since 1776, my idea of what constitutes America is not extent of territory, nor vast resources, nor unlimited power. It is rather that America.

ALLAH HELPS TO HOMER

A. Y. M. C. A. athletic director was teaching an international crowd of soldiers to play baseball in a field not very far back from the lines. He had been coaching a young chap from Morocco for several days. Just as the blackfaced fighter took up the bat, he raised his right hand, turned his face toward the East and with great reverence said:

"Allah be praised." Then he made a home run.

The next man at the bat was a husky young American. Raising his hand high, and glancing at the same beautiful sky, the boy from home said:

"You know me, Al." He got beamed.

HELPING FINANCE WAR A PRIVILEGE

Not Only a Duty Which Every Good American Owes His Country at This Time.

AMERICA IS RE-DISCOVERED

Autocratic Rulers of Germany Have Learned That They Cannot Foist Their Theories of Kultur Upon Our Democracy.

By THOMAS R. MARSHALL, Vice President of the United States.

A very remarkable thing about America consists in the fact that it does not remain discovered, for a country is discovered only when the world knows where it is and what it is.

If the world be mistaken in either particular, it remains still an unknown land. Historians say that Columbus discovered it in 1492, and so far as revealing its geographical location to the world is concerned that is true. But in 1776 it was rediscovered when the fat-headed German who sat on the English throne made the great mistake in the life of the British empire in thinking that he might treat the colonists as he chose.

Dream of World Dominion.

The average German Junker, if he had any religious sense which rose higher than the mere worship of power, would have made a splendid theologian professor in those days when it was witty, snail of Andover that every five years the professors took a solemn oath to the effect that they had learned nothing in the preceding five years and would learn nothing in the succeeding five. This German hierarchy became obsessed with the idea of world dominion emanating from a great empire in middle Europe. It proceeded with a diplomacy that would have made Machiavelli seek admission into the kindergarten. It organized by an act of the congress of the United States what is known as the German Alliance. Ostensibly a fraternal organization. Its underlying purpose was to obtain possession of the schools, colleges and universities of America, and by a course of training from generation to generation teach this people that the individual was nothing, that the state was everything. It thought in forty years it had so divided the American people that there were but two courses open to them, either a ready acquiescence in the purposes and aims of the imperial German government or in the having of sufficient power at the close of this bloodthirsty and cruel war to collect off the American people a sufficient tribute to indemnify in dollars and cents the vast expenditures of the German empire in the waging of this war and the making of the entire western continent a mere appendage of the German crown.

Now that the war is on some of its leading men boldly disclaim the right of the American government to have any immigration laws whatsoever. They brazenly announce that Columbus discovered America for the world; that the Germans have an unrestricted right to come to America, and if they can get a sufficient number here imbued with their theories of kultur to shift our individualistic democracy into a state autocracy. The Lusitania, the Arabia and the Sussex would never have been sunk, the indignities heaped upon the flag would never have occurred, the brutal and autocratic course of conduct would never have been taken, had their government not imagined its forty years' influence upon the thought and purpose of American life had so weakened the fiber of American citizenship that in the hour of trial it would be no longer

Read this extract from the letter of a well-to-do lady of Brussels, Belgium:

"Perhaps you will laugh when you hear that I wear a cloak made from my husband's overcoat, a waist made from his football shirt and a skirt made of a dyed bed-sheet. Mother has a suit made of the table cloth, J. and M. have cloaks made of burlap. But all this is only amusing in comparison with the wretchedness of the population."

"The Democratic leaders, including the speaker of the house, the floor leader, chairmen of the committees, including the chairman of the Military Affairs committee, which had it in charge, opposed the passage of the selective draft act. The Republican leaders carried it to passage. When the age extension act was before the House, the Democratic leaders tried to hamstring it with amendments and again the Republicans assumed charge and carried out the demands of the President's military advisers."

"Republican success in the coming campaign will be a guarantee against compromise and an assurance of a definite peace dictated by victory in the field. Those are the immediate questions before the American people."

"And what of the questions that will arise with the period of readjustment?" I asked.

"They also are directly involved," Mr. Fess replied. "The problems which we must inherit from the war demand study by the best minds of the nation. Great economic problems will confront us, and the public must be pardoned for looking with distrust and suspicion upon Democratic capacity to solve them. Always the Democratic party when entrusted with leadership, has botched the economic policies under which alone the prosperity of the people can be assured."

"Under our seniority practice in Congress, Democratic control of committees and legislation means Southern rule. I do not attack Southern rule from a sectional point of view. There is no south, in that sense. But the South has supplied the members who return year after year and who by right of seniority assume the posts of leadership. With few exceptions they are men inexperienced in the broad and great affairs of national life, untrained, inexperienced, provincial. Floorleader Kitchin has properly pointed out that the financial responsibilities under which we will labor after the war will be of stupendous character. Every year between four and five billion dollars will have to be raised by taxation—more than a billion for interest on bonds; a billion for soldiers' compensation in lieu of pensions; a billion for the army and navy. There will be other huge expenditures annually. Plans for economical administration and for wise legislation must be formulated well in advance; definite policies must be established. Will the voters of the nation turn to the Democratic party, with its record of inefficiency in just such matters, or will it turn to the party which in a crisis of that nature has always supplied the leaders?"

Mr. Fess discussed the outlook hopefully, with confidence. "We will gain members of the House in every section of the country even in the South," he predicted. "Enough are in sight to forecast a change of the political balance. I have looked over the situation in Ohio, and I believe we will gain three members there. I have conferred with the state chairman from all the states at a meeting in Chicago, and they make satisfactory reports."

"We will carry the next House," he concluded. "It is well that it should be so. For, with the Republican House, President Woodrow Wilson never again will be in doubt as to where the House stands when he proposes an effective, a vigorous war measure. The House will give him the support that assures robust prosecution of the war, a conclusive peace and speedy readjustment to normal conditions."

To feel as fine as the proverbial fiddle, we must keep the liver washed clean almost every morning, to prevent its sponge-like pores from clogging with indigestible material, sour bile and poisonous toxins, says a noted physician.

If you get headaches, it's your liver. If you wake up with a bad taste, furrowed brows, nasty breath or stomach becomes rumpled, it's your liver. Sallow skin, muddy complexion, watery eyes all denote liver uncleanness. Your liver is the most important and the most abused organ of the body. Few know its function or how to release the damaged upshot of bile and toxins. Most folk resort to violent cathartics, which is a dangerous, irritating chemical which can only be used occasionally because it accumulates in the tissues and attacks the bones.

Every man and woman sick or well, should drink each morning before breakfast a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of Laxative. It is to wash from the liver and bowels the previous day's indigestible material, the poisons, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before feeding more food into the stomach.

Laxative does not restrict the diet like cathartics because it can not substitute for it is harmless and you can eat anything afterwards. It is inexpensive and almost tasteless, and any pharmacist will sell you a quarter pound which is sufficient for a dozen or more days of use. It is a station of how hot water and Laxative phosphate cleans, stimulates and freshens the liver, keeping you feeling fit day in and day out.

MEAT INJURIOUS TO THE KIDNEYS

Take a tablespoonful of Salts if Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers.

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid says a well-known authority who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid but become weak from the overwork: they get sluggish; dig eliminative tissues stop and thus the waste is retained in the blood & poisons the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night: when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach, or rheumatism in hand, wrist, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts: take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate closed kidneys, to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make mistake by taking a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.

DAD CORRESPONDS

I got a letter from my boy
Who's far across the sea
With Generals Pershing, Foch and Haig;
The glorious trinity.
He didn't say a word about
The fight in Belleau Wood,
But said: "Dear Dad, we've met the Huns,
And got 'em going good."

I sat right down and answered him,
And this is what I said:—
"Just keep 'em going, son, until
There's nothing more ahead,
Across the Rhine and Germany,
And when they hit the brink
Of Father Neptune's broad domain,
Then push 'em in the drink."

"I'd love to be with you and make
This Kaiser bird feel sick,
But I'm a little bit too old
To help you turn the trick.
So, lad, it's up to you to keep
The Deutchers on the run,
While I stay home and buy the bonds
To furnish you the gun."

THEY WILL RUN AWAY OCCASIONALLY

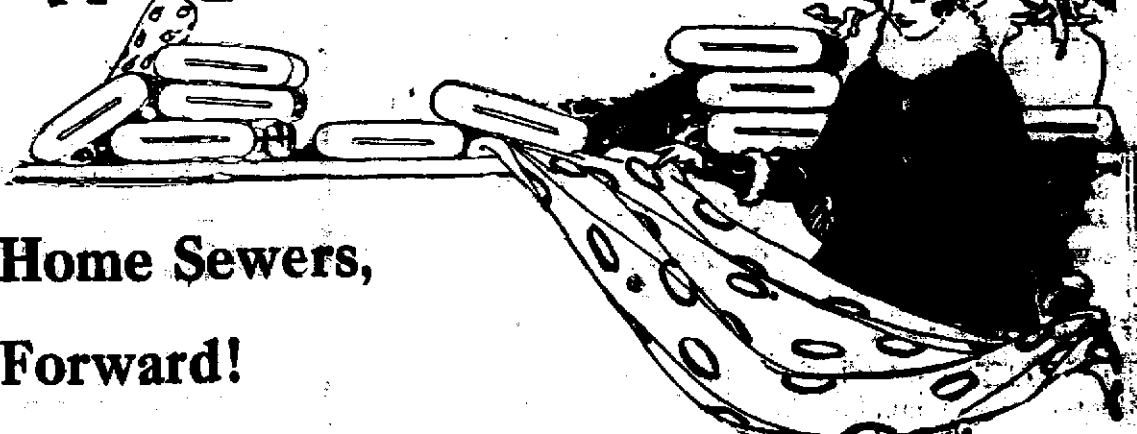

One of those rare happenings nowadays, a team running away, caused some excitement on Second street Saturday evening just shortly after 6 o'clock. Rube McDonald's team of bays furnished the excitement. Mr. McDonald had driven into town in a spring wagon to do his Saturday shopping and while he was busy in a store the team scared and ran away. They thundered down Second street past the Court House and threaded their way carefully between the automobiles. One horse slipped and fell at the lower end of Second street and

A big grey horse driven by a Miss Waring from Olanta, scared at a passing automobile about the time of the McDonald runaway and ran up street. The woman and two children were in the buggy and a serious accident was averted by a young man named Wilson who caught the frightened animal and hung to it until it ran up over the curb and against the shade tree in front of Routh and Swartzles. The shafts were twisted and single tree broken, while the horse received a cut on one hind leg. The occupants of the rig had a narrow escape, but the woman had the nerve to secure another buggy and drive the horse home.

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Druggist Says Ladies are Using Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Hair that loses its color and lustre as when it fades turns gray, dull and lifeless is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful and thousands of women and men who value their hair which is so attractive use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a 50-cent bottle of "Wreth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" which darkens the hair so naturally so evenly that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the add with Wreth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that it beautifies the hair after a few applications it also keeps the pores and scalp and gives it an appearance of abundance.

Wreth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite to impart color and a youthful appearance to the hair. It is intended for the cure mitigation or prevention of disease.

The new Federal Order on the conservation of paper leaves no alternative in the matter. Any publisher who violates the order runs the risk of having his paper supply cut off entirely by the Board.

THE CAUSE OF THE PAPER SHORTAGE

This condition has been brought about by the actual shortage of sulphur which is one of the principal ingredients used in the manufacture of paper pulp. The two sulphur mines that exist in this country are far too small to produce an adequate supply to meet the present day demand and, of course, none can be imported just now when all shipping interests are centered in getting men and supplies over to help Foch lick the Hun.

An Internal Treatment For Piles (Hemorrhoids)

Gives Absolute relief from all pain and Suffering. Has Never failed Guaranteed

Many people have become dependent because they have been led to believe that their case was hopeless and that there was no remedy for their case.
Go to your drugist and get an original bottle of Miro Pile Remedy, the discovery of a clever Ohio chemist, that takes internally, passes unchanged through the stomach and intestines, and thus reaches the source of the trouble where by its soothing, healing and anesthetic action it first allays and then by direct contact with the ulcers and piles causes them to heal and disappear forever.
It's positively marvelous how speedily it acts. Blessed relief often comes in two or three days, even cases that have resisted all previously known treatments really wonderful results have been accomplished. It is one of the wonderful discoveries of recent years and anyone who is disappointed with its use can have their money refunded.

Just read what Mr. F. M. Smith of 2313
Broadway Lorain Ohio says:
"I gladly recommend Miro Remedy for Piles.
There is no cure to it. I suffered for 15 years and tried everything that was recommended.
I doctored and years and was a constant sufferer with bleeding piles. I took two bottles of Miro and was entirely cured. Any sufferer using it will never regret it."
All pharmacists dispense. Miro or can get it for you on short notice. Surely it is worth the little trouble to obtain to be rid of piles forever.

Wisdom And Economy Prompt Purchasing Fall Dress Materials At Once

It is WISEST to purchase Fall dress materials now, simply because there is wider choice and consequently it is easier to satisfy individual preference.

It is ECONOMY to purchase Fall materials now, because prices will not be lower and there is a strong possibility of them being higher later on, simply for the reason that the Government is commandeering all wool for the army and navy.

The prices range as follows:

Serges $1.00 to $1.50 a yard.

Gabardine $2.50 to $3.50 a yard.

Velour at $5.50 a yard.

Dress silks $1.50 to $2.50 a yard.

tinct cross-stripe effects, alternating stripes which are most often plaited to produce the proper effect as well as dozens of the newest designs. In a range of prices

STABBING AFFRAY AT DUBOIS BRINGS DEATH TO VICTIM

Andy Davis, a well known DuBois young man, was stabbed through the left lung Saturday night last by Tony Garodine and died in the DuBois hospital at 1:30 Sunday morning.

The stabbing took place in the barroom of the Central Hotel, the altercation starting over a glass of beer.
When the trouble started Garodine was put out of the hotel and was then seen to pull out a knife, open it and placing it in his coat pocket go back into the barroom through the office.
He then walked up to Davis, renewed the quarrel and plunged the knife into his left breast.

Davis was employed in the B. R.
& P. storehouse and leaves a wife and several children. The murderer is 36 years of age and has a wife and two children in Italy.

Garodine was badly beaten by other men in the bar following the stabbing of Davis and was later arrested by Officer Ted Brown and placed in the lockup. He was brought to jail today, following a preliminary hearing.

STUDENTS OPPORTUNITY TO ENROLL IN THE NAVY

There will be a Naval Section of the Student Army Training Corps at Carnegie Tech and University of Pittsburgh. The detachment at Tech will be enrolled to the strength of 150 and at Pitt to the strength of 100.
While no guarantee can be made the idea is to keep these students in college to complete their education along lines qualifying them for officer material schools in the Navy. The length of time they remain at college will necessarily depend on the needs of the service but men will remain in college as long as the Naval Authorities can allow. Applicants must be over eighteen years of age.

Men entering the Naval Section will be enrolled as apprentice seamen in the Naval Reserves, and will be outfitted with Naval Uniforms and paid $32.60 per month plus lodging and subsistence. The Naval authorities are particularly desirous of getting as many mechanical and electrical engineering students as possible in the Naval Section. This is an excellent opportunity for young men to qualify for commissioned officers billets in the Navy although the actual commissioning of entrants depends entirely on the schoolastic and general ability shown during the course.
Those that fail to eventually qualify for commissions will be placed in the petty officer ratings for which they may qualify. The officers and men attached to the local Navy Recruiting Station have been detailed to make the enrollments. The handling of the individual calls with the Draft Boards will be supervised by the Naval authorities.

Those desiring to enter the Naval Section should remember that the enrollments are by Naval and not by Military Authorities, although the Naval Section will be consolidated with the Army Section after enrollment.

Enrollments will be considered at the schools as soon as the blank forms are received. Undergraduates at these colleges who have already enrolled in the Naval Reserve to continue their college course will be placed in the Naval Section.

TITANIC STRUGGLE FOR HINDENBURG LINE GOES ON WITHOUT CEASING

By Lowell Mellett

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

With The British Army In France, Sept. 23.—Regardless of the heavy rain the British and Germans continued local fighting between Cambrai and St. Quentin, last night and early today. South of Oppy the British last night advanced 600 yards on an 1100 yard front. At ten o'clock last night the British troops advanced north of Epehy, driving the enemy out of several trench elements breaking into the Hindenburg line.

London, Sept. 23.—British troops progressed on a front of about 3-4 of a mile east of Gavrell, 5 1-2 miles northeast of Arras last night, Field Marshal Haig announced today.

The Germans temporarily penetrated the British line near Berthaucourt, 4 miles northwest of St. Quentin. Early in the evening they were driven out by counter attacks.

The British also advanced between Vendhuile and Villers-Guislain. "A number of strong points and some prisoners were taken. Last night English troops made progress in the direction of Tombois Farm, 2 miles directly west of Lecatte, after several hours of hard fighting," the statement said. "Further north they captured a group of strongly held trenches and strong points northwest of Vendhuile. A number of prisoners were taken during the night. Also about 100 prisoners were taken in the local attack south of Villers-Guislain."

Paris, Sept. 23.—The capture of Vendeul (on the western bank of the Oise, 9 miles south of St. Quentin) is reported by the French war office. North of the Ly-Fontaine, (2 miles northwest of Vendeul) the French troops penetrated south of Hinecourt (a mile north of Ly-Fontaine.)

MOVEMENT ON TO FORCE MEN OUT OF NON-ESSENTIAL INDUSTRIES

Washington, Sept. 23.—A move designed to force men out of non-essential employment and muster women of the nation to take their places is on foot today by thousands of Local Boards reaching into every section of the country.

The Boards are acting under detailed instructions from the government working through the United States Employment Service. Each Board soon will publish lists of industries in its locality in which men should be replaced by women. Lists are being based on a survey of the industries in each board's district. Publication of the lists is expected to cause employers to comply and employ women as a result of the moral pressure thus exerted. Where moral pressure fails strong measures will be undertaken. This move is a result of the enlargement of the army program under which four million men will be sent to France by next June.

LOTTERY FOR 18 TO 45 REGISTRANTS IS LIKELY TO BE HELD THIS WEEK

Washington, Sept. 23.—America's greatest draft lottery, determining the order for the calling to duty in the different classes of over thirteen million men who registered, will be held very soon, possibly this week, it was learned today.

LIBERTY CHORUS NOTICE

Every member of the Liberty Chorus is requested to be present at the rehearsal to be held tomorrow evening at eight o'clock sharp. Please bring your megaphones and every piece of music you have. There will be a large attendance.

BRITISH CAPTURE NAZARETH IN A BRILLIANT FIGHT

Two entire Turkish armies have been practically wiped out in Palestine it was officially announced today. "The 7th and 8th Turkish army has virtually ceased to exist," the statement said.

Paris, Sept. 23.—Allied troops in Macedonia have taken 25 villages in the last 48 hours according to dispatches from the Salonika front today.

London, Sept. 22.—Nazareth is in British hands. The ancient city of Galilee was delivered from the Turkish Turk on Friday when Irish, English and Australian horsemen dashed into it and passed it in one of the most far-flung and brilliant encircling operations of all military history.

Eighteen thousand Turks were trapped. One hundred guns were captured. What remains of the Turkish Nabulus army has been cut off from all avenue of escape with the exception of a narrow stretch along the Jordan East Beisan, which city is in British hands. Many thousands of Ottomans were mowed down as they fled in panic before General Allenby's cavalrymen. Many thousands more fell as they fled straight into the hands of the mounted columns closing in on them.

Occupation of Nazareth marks a British advance of 75 miles since the fall of Jerusalem. The operations culminating in the glorious victory which more than settles the British account for the Kut-el-Amara defeat, were carried out along a total of 150 miles. The main line of attack stretched from Beit-djan, eight miles east of the Mediterranean to Yafa, to the north of Nazareth.

El Afuleh, eight miles south of Nazareth and fifteen miles northwest of Beisan, also has been occupied. "Traversing the field of Armageddon," says General Allenby's report of Friday, received here today, "we occupied Nazareth, the Beisan, collecting the disorganized masses of the enemy troops from the south."

"All of the enemy's avenue of escape except the Jordan's fords, have been closed." And on the following day, Allenby, the modern Crusader, was enabled to telegraph:

"We hold Nazareth and the passes of the Jordan. Eighteen thousand prisoners, 120 guns captured."

BRITISH AIRMEN BOMB HOSTILE AIRDROMES

London Sept. 23.—Fifteen tons of bombs were dropped on enemy objectives by British aviators Saturday night according to official announcement today. "Saturday night Royal Aerial Force units attacked four hostile airdromes with bombs and machine guns. The Hagendinger and Rosbach, blast furnaces were attacked and hit. About 15 tons of bombs were dropped. All of our machines returned safely" the statement said.

IN A GERMAN PRISON

In a late casualty list Sergeant Patrick H. Farrell, son of the late Hon. John F. Farrell, at one time a resident of Houtzdale, and who was a member of the State Legislature from Clearfield county, is reported to be a prisoner in the German camp of Langalsalza, located at Thuringen, Germany. The young man is 23 years of age.

WHAT DID YOU GUESS?

We have heard a great deal of speculation regarding the speed of the airplane which flew over Clearfield last Friday evening and which was carrying air men Miller and Wacker. For the information of all concerned we will say that according to Mr. Miller's statement at Lock Haven Friday evening he was only flying at the rate of 120 miles per hour when he disappeared from our view behind the eastern horizon.

This is Bond-Day.

REPUBLICAN CONGRESSIONAL CAMPAIGN TAKES SECOND PLACE UNTIL AFTER LIBERTY LOAN CAMPAIGN

By Gus J. Karger

Washington, D. C., Sept. 20. "I accepted the chairmanship of the National Republican Congressional committee because of the unanimity with which it was tendered, guaranteeing the elimination of all factional differences. Being thoroughly convinced that a Republican Congress is demanded in the interest of the country, I obeyed the call from a sense of patriotic duty."

This was the statement of Representative Simeon D. Fess, of Ohio, former President of Antioch College, whose participation in practical rather than theoretical politics began in 1910, when he became a member of the Ohio Constitutional convention, and whose experiences in the field then new to him have ripened since his entrance into Congress in 1912.

He attains a position of national leadership in the Republican party with a reputation in the House well established. Always a student and a thinker, the days of the classroom are far enough behind him to relieve him both of inclination toward or reputation for pedantry. Throughout his Congressional career he has demonstrated high ability to avoid impractical theorizing and to apply profound knowledge to the desiderata of a progressive age and nation.

Thus equipped, he assumes charge of the campaign, the purpose of which is to wipe out a Democratic plurality of four in the House and turn it into a Republican majority, and to rearrange the political balance in the Senate, where the Democrats now control by a vote of 52 to 44. Not an insignificant undertaking, but Chairman Fess believes that it will be done.

I talked with him in his room in the House Office building with reference to the character of the campaign that is to be waged, with regard to the issues that will be urged upon the attention of the electorate. Although but recently inducted into his high office, Mr. Fess already had held numerous conferences on the subject, had sought the advice of other leaders, and had mapped out the situation in the orderly manner which is habitual with him.

"My belief in Republican success in the coming elections," he said, "is based upon the conviction that the public holds in high esteem the attitude of Republicans who before the war showed their insistence for a policy of preparedness, and who since the war have given vigorous support to every measure of war, even though by so doing they added to the popular prestige of the opposition party, responsible for the affairs of government. The Republican attitude, from the beginning, has been an unselfish one, stripped of all desire for partisan advantage. I believe the American people appreciate that attitude and will voice that appreciation at the polls."

Chairman Fess went at once more deeply into his subject—the conduct of the coming campaign.

"No active campaigning can begin," he explained, "until the drive for the fourth Liberty Loan shall have come to an end on October 19. The Republican party is so vitally concerned in the success of that loan, that it can permit no other consideration to divert the attention of the public from it. The winning of the war is the first and foremost—aye, the only—consideration. The intense interest of the Republicans in the loan is clearly shown by the fact that Republicans of both House and Senate are doing their utmost to shape the business of Congress as to permit them to take individual part in the campaign for the sale of the securities. Their patriotic support of the loan precludes the possibility of entering them for campaign service before the success of the loan itself shall have been assured. Then, and not until then the vigorous campaign which is no being mapped out will be set in motion. Necessarily brief, yet this political campaign will be of vital importance to the nation. It will be conducted, along the lines with which the public is familiar through speakers, literature, newspaper discussion, local district and state organization. I have already conferred with the state chairmen and other conferences will follow, in which candidates for Congress and district chairmen will participate. Of the cooperation of the Republican National Committee I am assured by Chairman Hays, with

"What issues will be emphasized in the campaign?" I asked the chairman. "More vigorous prosecution of the war will be the Republican demand," he returned. "Perhaps such real issues as involve an affirmative by one party and a negative by the other may be lacking. That is due to the fact that the Republican party for the duration of the war has abandoned the ordinary function of a minority party, which is to hold up and oppose legislation by the majority. We have not constituted a minority party in that sense, in fact, we may not properly be designated the minority party in the House at all. In the major measures designed to speed the war and develop the war power of the nation, the administration has been obliged to turn from its own unwilling leaders and look to eager patriots on the Republican side to assume the responsibility which really belonged to the Democratic party, but which it would not shoulder."

"Republicans have done much to stimulate governmental war energy, and constructive Republican criticism, intelligence and inefficiency that would have scored heavily against us. Constantly the course of the administration has lagged behind Republican demand."

"Secretary of War Baker has reminded the country that the war department is seven or eight months ahead of its plans. But the answer is that these plans are years behind; the trouble, from the beginning, has been the lack of plans, the lack of conception."

"We must elect a Republican Congress because a Republican Congress will feel a greater sense of responsibility than merely to follow the wake of administration. We must elect a Republican Congress will be free to criticize and correct evils, and force action just as the Republicans of Congress have been doing for seventeen months; because a Republican Congress will stimulate the war activities of the government and stand more firmly behind the real war aim of the President than a Democratic Congress would do. Every delay means the sacrifice of thousands of American lives, and Republicans, wherever they speed up the machinery, are saving these lives."

INFLUENZA BEING CONQUERED AT GREAT LAKES, ILL

Great Lakes Ill., Sept. 23.—Over 4,000 sailors at the Great Lakes Training station are suffering from Spanish Influenza according to a statement made public today by Captain Moffett, commandant. The death rate, he said, is 1 1/2 per cent. The malady has been conquered, he declared and the cases are declining at the rate of 10 per cent, a day. Liberty still is restricted. This includes Lieut. Souma's band which will cancel a Liberty Loan trip.

Do You Want To Go Back To Open Milk Containers

Of course not. Neither do we. That is why we take this method of talking to our customers. It is nearly impossible to buy milk bottles. We are short of them now and are told that we cannot expect to get any more for four months.

Less than two months ago we bought twelve gross of new bottles and find now that we have less bottles than we did before we bought these. Breakage by customers has helped bring about this shortage and we are informed that some customers are using these milk bottles for preserves and pickles. Others do not empty their bottles daily and this helps to create a bottle shortage. On a recent occasion we had to call in the wagons to get the bottles they collected that morning before we could deliver all of the milk for that day.

Our customers hold the key to the situation. We know you will help us by taking good care of the bottles and seeing that they are emptied daily.

Peaceful Man Can Fight.

It has rediscovered America. It has found that it was mistaken. It has been suddenly confronted with the fact that the peaceful man is the most dangerous man when he concludes to engage in a fight.

But this fight is not yet won. There are no half dozen courses open to the American people. They must win or they must lose, and if they lose, what was sought to be accomplished by insidious propaganda will be given to them by the mailed fist of the conqueror. Holy war declares that all a man hath will be given for his life, but more than a century and a quarter of American life has disclosed that life is not life unless with it goes liberty.

We are therefore up against the real thing. We must win or we must be contented to be slaves, despots of our houses, our lands, our souls, our bonds, our mortgages and our money. I am not a graduate of the Wharton School of Finance. I learned my financial system from the Indiana official who felt that he had been a faithful public servant when he made a report in his fiduciary capacity which simply showed that the money was all paid in and all paid out. But with blood in my veins, not a drop of which on either side of the house has landed on this soil since 1776, my idea of what constitutes America is not extent of territory, nor vast resources, nor unlimited power. It is rather that America

ALLAH HELPS TO HOMER

A. Y. M. C. A. athletic director was teaching an international crowd of soldiers to play baseball in a field not very far back from the lines. He had been coaching a young chap from Morocco for several days. Just as the blackfaced fighter took up the bat, he raised his right hand, turned his face toward the East and with great reverence said:

"Allah be praised." Then he made a home run.

The next man at the bat was a husky young American. Raising his hand high, and glancing at the same beautiful sky, the boy from home said:

"You know me, Al." He got beamed.

"The Democratic leaders, including the speaker of the house, the floor leader, chairman of the committees, including the chairman of the Military Affairs committee, which had it in charge, opposed the passage of the selective draft act. The Republican leaders carried it to passage. When the age extension act was before the House, the Democratic leaders tried to hamstring it with amendments and again the Republicans assumed charge and carried out the demands of the President's military advisers."

"Republican success in the coming campaign will be a guarantee against compromise and an assurance of a definite peace dictated by victory in the field. Those are the immediate questions before the American people."

"And what of the questions that will arise with the period of readjustment?" I asked.

"They also are directly involved," Mr. Fess replied. "The problems which we must inherit from the war demand study by the best minds of the nation. Great economic problems will confront us, and the public must be pardoned for looking with distrust and suspicion upon Democratic capacity to solve them. Always the Democratic party when entrusted with leadership, has botched the economic policies under which alone the prosperity of the people can be assured."

"Under our seniority practice in Congress, Democratic control of committees and legislation means Southern rule. I do not attack Southern rule from a sectional point of view. There is no south, in that sense. But the South has supplied the members who return year after year and who by right of seniority assume the posts of leadership. With few exceptions they are men inexperienced in the broad and great affairs of national life, untrained, inexperienced, provincial. Floorleader Kitchin has properly pointed out that the financial responsibilities under which we will labor after the war will be of stupendous character. Every year between four and five billion dollars will have to be raised by taxation—more than a billion for interest on bonds; a billion for soldiers' compensation in lieu of pensions; a billion for the army and navy. There will be other huge expenditures annually. Plans for economical administration and for wise legislation must be formulated well in advance; definite policies must be established. Will the voters of the nation turn to the Democratic party, with its record of inefficiency in just such matters, or will it turn to the party which in a crisis of that nature has always supplied the leaders?"

Mr. Fess discussed the outlook hopefully, with confidence. "We will gain members of the House in every section of the country even in the South," he predicted. "Enough are in sight to forecast a change of the political balance. I have looked over the situation in Ohio, and I believe we will gain three members there. I have conferred with the state chairman from all the states at a meeting in Chicago, and they make satisfactory reports."

"We will carry the next House," her concluded. "It is well that it should be so. For, with the Republican House, President Woodrow Wilson never again will be in doubt as to where the House stands when he proposes an effective, a vigorous war measure. The House will give him the support that assures robust prosecution of the war, a conclusive peace and speedy readjustment to normal conditions."

AMERICA IS RE-DISCOVERED

Autocratic Rulers of Germany Have Learned That They Cannot Foist
Their Theories of Kultur Upon
Our Democracy.By THOMAS R. MARSHALL,
Vice President of the United States.

A very remarkable thing about America consists in the fact that it does not remain discovered, for a country is discovered only when the world knows where it is and what it is. If the world be mistaken in either particular, it remains still an unknown land. Historians say that Columbus discovered it in 1492, and so far as revealing its geographical location to the world is concerned that is true. But in 1776 it was rediscovered when the fat-headed German who sat on the English throne made the great mistake in the life of the British empire in thinking that he might treat the colonists as he chose.

Dream of World Dominion.

The average German Junker, if he had any religious sense which rose higher than the mere worship of power, would have made a splendid theologian professor in those days when it was witty, snail of Andover that every five years the professors took a solemn oath to the effect that they had learned nothing in the preceding five years and would learn nothing in the succeeding five. This German hierarchy became obsessed with the idea of world dominion emanating from a great empire in middle Europe. It proceeded with a diplomacy that would have made Machiavelli seek admission into the kindergarten. It organized by an act of the congress of the United States what is known as the German Alliance. Ostensibly a fraternal organization. Its underlying purpose was to obtain possession of the schools, colleges and universities of America, and by a course of training from generation to generation teach this people that the individual was nothing, that the state was everything. It thought in forty years it had so divided the American people that there were but two courses open to them, either a ready acquiescence in the purposes and aims of the imperial German government or in the having of sufficient power at the close of this bloodthirsty and cruel war to collect off the American people a sufficient tribute to indemnify in dollars and cents the vast expenditures of the German empire in the waging of this war and the making of the entire western continent a mere appendage of the German crown.

Now that the war is on some of its leading men boldly disclaim the right of the American government to have any immigration laws whatsoever. They brazenly announce that Columbus discovered America for the world; that the Germans have an unrestricted right to come to America, and if they can get a sufficient number here imbued with their theories of kultur to shift our individualistic democracy into a state autocracy. The Lusitania, the Arabia and the Sussex would never have been sunk, the indignities heaped upon the flag would never have occurred, the brutal and autocratic course of conduct would never have been taken, had their government not imagined its forty years' influence upon the thought and purpose of American life had so weakened the fiber of American citizenship that in the hour of trial it would be as im-

Read this extract from the letter of a well-to-do lady of Brussels, Belgium:

"Perhaps you will laugh when you hear that I wear a cloak made from my husband's overcoat, a waist made from his football shirt and a skirt made of a dyed bed-sheet. Mother has a suit made of the table cloth, J. and M. have cloaks made of burlap. But all this is only amusing in comparison with the wretchedness of the population."

THEY WILL RUN AWAY OCCASIONALLY

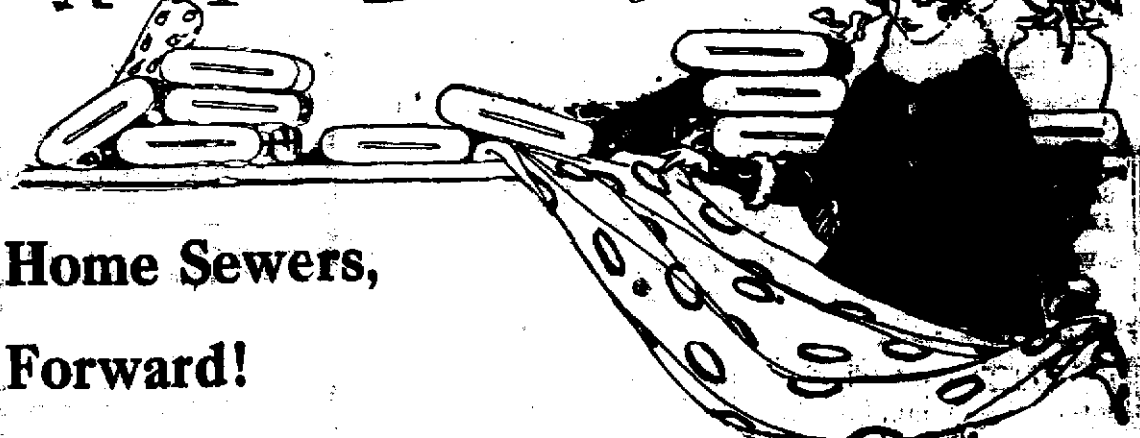

One of those rare happenings nowadays, a team running away, caused some excitement on Second street Saturday evening just shortly after 6 o'clock. They thundered down Second street past the Court House and threaded their way carefully between the automobiles. One horse slipped and fell at the lower end of Second street and

Druggist Says Ladies are Using Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Hair that loses its color and lustre as when it fades turns gray, dull and lifeless is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grand-mother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful and thousands of women and men who value their hair which is so attractive use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a 50-cent bottle of "Wreth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" which darkens the hair so naturally so evenly that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the add with Wreth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that it beautifies the hair, keeps it soft and healthy, and gives it an appearance of abundance.

Wreth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite to impart color and a youthful appearance to the hair. It is intended for the cure mitigation or prevention of disease.

THE CAUSE OF THE PAPER SHORTAGE

This condition has been brought about by the actual shortage of sulphur which is one of the principal ingredients used in the manufacture of paper pulp. The two sulphur mines that exist in this country are far too small to produce an adequate supply to meet the present day demand and, of course, none can be imported just now when all shipping interests are centered in getting men and supplies over to help Foch lick the Hun.

MEAT INJURIOUS TO THE KIDNEYS

Take a tablespoonful of Salts if Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid says a well-known authority who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble. The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid but become weak from the overwork: they get sluggish; dig eliminative tissues stop and thus the waste is retained in the blood & poisons the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, oblige you to seek relief during the night: when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach, or rheumatism in hand, washers get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts: take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate closed kidneys, to neutralize the acids in uric acid, so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

He didn't say a word about

But said: "Dear Dad, we've met the Huns,

I sat right down and answered him,
And this is what I said:—
"Just keep 'em going, son, until
There's nothing more ahead,
Across the Rhine and Germany,
And when they hit the brink
Of Father Neptune's broad domain,
Then push 'em in the drink."

An Internal Treatment For Piles (Hemorrhoids)

Gives Absolute relief from all pain and suffering. Has Never failed.

Many people have become dependent because they have been led to believe that their case was hopeless and that there was no remedy for their case. Go to your drugist and get an original bottle of Miro Pile Remedy, the discovery of a clever Ohio chemist, that takes internally, passes unchanged through the stomach and intestines, and thus reaches the source of the trouble where by its soothing, healing and aseptic action it first allays and then by direct contact with the ulcers and piles causes them to heal and disappear.

It's positively marvelous how speedily it acts. Blessed relief often comes in two or three days, even a case that has resisted all previously known treatments really wonderful results have been accomplished. It is one of the wonderful discoveries of recent years and anyone who is disappointed with its use can have their money refunded. Just read what Mr. F. M. Smith of 2313 Broadway Lorain Ohio says: "I gladly recommend Miro Remedy for Piles. There is no cure to it. I suffered for 15 years and tried everything that was recommended. I doctored and years and was a constant sufferer with bleeding piles. I took two bottles of Miro and was entirely cured. Any sufferer using it will never regret it. All pharmacists dispense. Miro or can get it for you on short notice. Surely it is worth the little trouble to obtain to be rid of piles forever."

Wisdom And Economy Prompt Purchasing Fall Dress Materials At Once

It is WISEST to purchase Fall dress materials now, simply because there is wider choice and consequently it is easier to satisfy individual preference.

It is ECONOMY to purchase Fall materials now, because prices will not be lower and there is a strong possibility of them being higher later on, simply for the reason that the Government is commandeering all wool for the army and navy.

The prices range as follows:

Serges $1.00 to $1.50 a yard.

Gabardine $2.50 to $3.50 a yard.

Velour at $5.50 a yard.

Dress silks $1.50 to $2.50 a yard.

Smart Plaids For Stunning Skirts

If indications of what manufacturers are making up are to be taken as a basis for popularity, then plaid skirts will not only hold first favor during Fall but extend far into next season as well. Here are the distinct cross-stripe effects, alternating stripes which are most often plaited to produce the proper effect as well as dozens of the newest designs. In a range of prices from $2.25 to $3.75 a yard.

STABBING AFFRAY AT DUBOIS BRINGS DEATH TO VICTIM

Andy Davis, a well known DuBois young man, was stabbed through the left lung Saturday night last by Tony Garodine and died in the DuBois hospital at 1:30 Sunday morning.

The stabbing took place in the barroom of the Central Hotel, the altercation starting over a glass of beer. When the trouble started Garodine was put out of the hotel and was then seen to pull out a knife, open it and placing it in his coat pocket go back into the barroom through the office. He then walked up to Davis, renewed the quarrel and plunged the knife into his left breast.

Davis was employed in the B. R. & P. storehouse and leaves a wife and several children. The murderer is 36 years of age and has a wife and two children in Italy.

Garodine was badly beaten by other men in the bar following the stabbing of Davis and was later arrested by Officer Ted Brown and placed in the lockup. He was brought to jail today, following a preliminary hearing.

STUDENTS OPPORTUNITY TO ENROLL IN THE NAVY

There will be a Naval Section of the Student Army Training Corps at Carnegie Tech and University of Pittsburgh. The detachment at Tech will be enrolled to the strength of 150 and at Pitt to the strength of 100. While no guarantee can be made the idea is to keep these students in college to complete their education along lines qualifying them for officer material schools in the Navy. The length of time they remain at college will necessarily depend on the needs of the service but men will remain in college as long as the Naval Authorities can allow. Applicants must be over eighteen years of age.

Men entering the Naval Section will be enrolled as apprentice seamen in the Naval Reserves, and will be outfitted with Naval Uniforms and paid $32.60 per month plus lodging and subsistence. The Naval authorities are particularly desirous of getting as many mechanical and electrical engineering students as possible in the Naval Section. This is an excellent opportunity for young men to qualify for commissioned officers billets in the Navy although the actual commissioning of entrants depends entirely on the schoolastic and general ability shown during the course. Those that fail to eventually qualify for commissions will be placed in the petty officer ratings for which they may qualify. The officers and men attached to the local Navy Recruiting Station have been detailed to make the enrollments. The handling of the individual calls with the Draft Boards will be supervised by the Naval authorities.

Those desiring to enter the Naval Section should remember that the enrollments are by Naval and not by Military Authorities, although the Naval Section will be consolidated with the Army Section after enrollment.

Enrollments will be considered at the schools as soon as the blank forms are received. Undergraduates at these colleges who have already enrolled in the Naval Reserve to continue their college course will be placed in the Naval Section.
